Tractor trek ends in meeting with Lou Hyndman

By Vicki Brooker

A five-day trek to the Alberta Legislature ended shortly after 1 p.m. Friday for a group of farmers from Northeast Alberta. Elk Point area farmer Albert Naber steered his ancient John Deere "D" tractor up the driveway to the Parliament Buildings to a loud chorus of cheers from crowds of onlookers.

Naber parked the rusty, clattering machine and its loaded bale rack in front of the main entrance, as four huge, modern tractors from the cavalcade maneuvered into parking spots on the concourse, and their seven occupants, who had followed Naber from his Vegreville stop on Wednesday, joined him on the legislature steps.

Numerous additional supporters from Elk Point, St. Paul, and other farming communities were in the crowd, including several election hopefuls. Representatives of at least five political parties were much in evidence, as were placard-carrying members of the Alberta Federation of Labor and the National Farmers Union.

"I'm proud to be a farmer", boomed Elk Point farmer Ray Danyluk from the Legislature steps, "And I would like to continue to be a farmer. We are producing the cheapest food in the world, but we are now in difficult times and we need help."

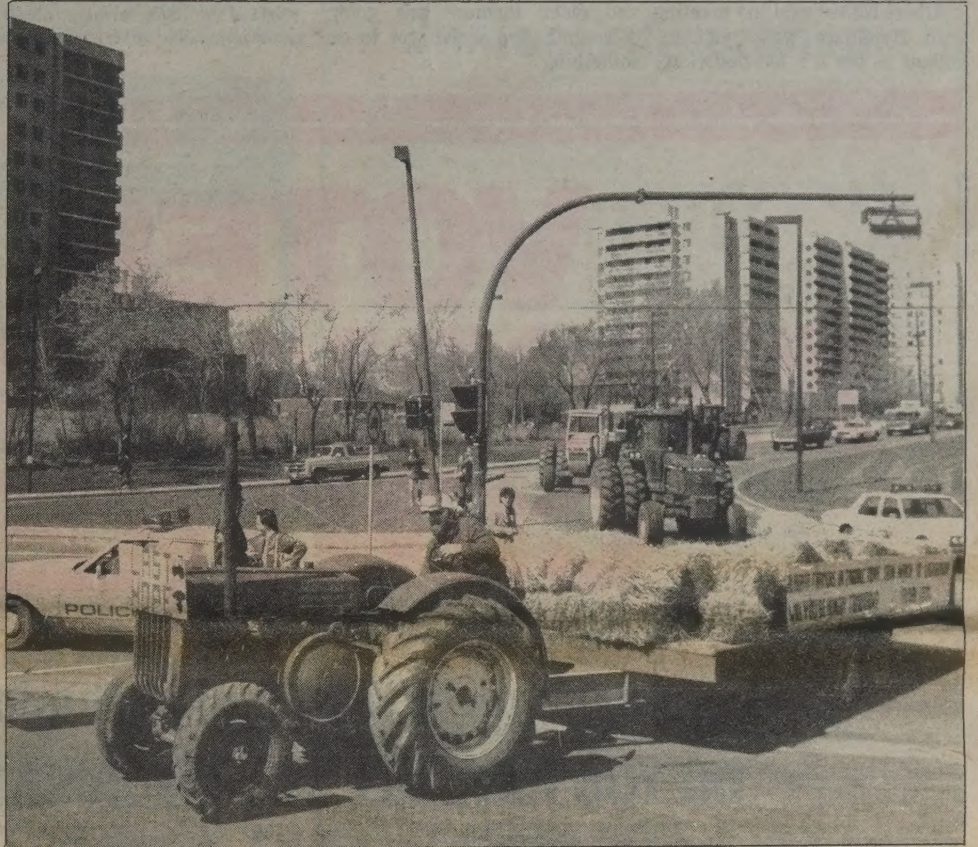

Danyluk was followed to the microphone by another Elk Point farmer, Harvey Aarbo, who questioned the lack of government representatives: "We've come all this way and there's nobody home", he lamented.

Beginning farmer Terry Wozniak, who with his brother John drove one of the tractors to Edmonton, spoke eloquently on the lack of chances for success for rural young people who want to stay on the farm.

Leaders and candidates of several political parties, along with labor union and NFU representatives also took the stand to offer their comments on the situation faced by rural Albertans.

Provincial Treasurer Lou Hyndman met privately with fourteen of the farmers in an hour long session, after which he

Hon. D.J. Russel approves Nursing Home plans

By Irene Magnusson

Good news for Elk Point and District! A long-awaited Nursing Home is on the horizon. At a 10:00 a.m. gathering of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital Board of Directors on Friday, April 18, M.L.A. John Drobot officially announced the approval of a beginning to the long but necessary plans that will eventually lead to the construction of a 30-bed Nursing Home, as well as such support services as will be required.

The citizens of Elk Point have been working toward this end for considerable years, and the Hospital Board has actively engaged in bringing this about. Since the province is responsible for the building of hospitals, that is where the decision lay. The municipality supplies the land on which to build.

Whether the new facility will be attached to the present hospital, or a separate building lies in the hands of those who will work out the plans. That it will be a large undertaking is seen in the $2.6 million expected cost, with $2 million for the building itself, and the $600,000 for equipment and other costs.

That the Board was pleased goes without saying. Chairman Tom Belsheim accepted the congratulations of John Drobot. Director of Nursing Diana Anderson was all smiles.

"It is indeed a pleasure to bring this news," Mr. Drobot said, in congratulating the Board on the work they have done.

In reply, Mr. Belsheim thanked Mr. Drobot and praised him for the efforts he has made on behalf of the new Nursing Home.

"Medical care facilities are a very costly area", Mr. Drobot said, and that all steps must be taken slowly and carefully.

Clem Johnson, Hospital Administrator, to questions later, said he is very pleased with the prospect of the new addition to Elk Point's Health services.

"At times," he said, "We have had to let some patients go early, to make room for others coming in. There is a shortage of Active Care beds. The new facility will free-up the ten beds now used for long-term patients, back to active care. Thirty new beds will make a tremendous difference." At present the hospital has only 17 adult active-care beds.

Johnson couldn't say how many more staff the Nursing Home addition would require, but certainly there will be work for some. The added work in the area will not hurt the economy of Elk Point; there will be builders, planners, decorators, etc., etc., all receiving some boost from this project.

But most of all it will be a blessing for those seniors and ill persons who would like to know they are able to stay in their own town, (if not their own homes) when age and illness take over. I'm sure Elk Point and area will join me in a heartfelt "Hurray!"

Other members of the Hospital Board are Roy Bristow (vice-chairman), John Williams, Walter Pilisko, Mike Kadutski, John Mohyluk and Melvin Faryna. All were present, as well as Mrs. Anderson and Administrator Johnson, for the announcement.

told flocking reporters that he would convey to Agriculture Minister Leroy Fjordbotten and Premier Don Getty "their worries and concerns...which they indicated in sincere ways". Hyndman said he was glad to have met with the farmers because "it is always important to hear the facts first-hand".

In later interviews, those who met with Hyndman felt the meeting was productive. Ray Danyluk said "more was discussed there than ever before" and added that he felt the group had succeeded in "making the government aware that we have a problem".

Albert Naber said the meeting with Hyndman was "just excellent — but it's too bad Getty didn't show up to face the music".

Harvey Aarbo also agreed the meeting was successful, "Lou (Hyndman) has never heard this stuff before, all these facts and figures."

Aarbo felt the group had "gained ground" by talking to "the man who draws up the budget".

However, the farmers are not about to rest on their success. Joe Muchka of St. Paul, who also met with Hyndman, said plans are already underway for a rally in St. Paul.

"We are not giving up," he reiterated. "We need help, and we're not quitters. Both young and older farmers are going down hill, and we've got to do something."

YOUNG FARMER SPEAKS OUT — Terry Wozniak related the plight of the young farmers, whose efforts to start viable farm units are made impossible by high interest and input costs.

Visitors at Council

A total of fourteen visitors, including four delegations, met with Elk Point Town Council last week, stretching the meeting to over five hours in length.

Council's first visitors were seven members of the newly formed Elk Point Chapter of the Canadian Save the Children Fund, who presented Mayor Buck with the United Nations Charter of Children's Rights and a CSCF pin. The Mayor then declared April 20 to 26 as Save the Children Week in Elk Point.

Second on the visitors' roster was municipal auditor Allen Warawa, who presented the 1985 municipal financial statement and went over the various categories with Council. The financial statement will be printed later this week for distribution to ratepayers.

It was later noted that the Town's net cash position is "excellent", surpassing the provincial benchmark of 25% of the town's tax levy by over 300%, on the 1985 financial statement.

Bob and Dave Borger of WRD Borger Construction were the next visitors, discussing matters pertaining to both present and proposed residential subdivisions. Bob Borger said that paving in the present subdivision is scheduled for late June or early July.

RCMP Sergeant Jim Fell arrived later in the evening, to report on his detachment's 1985 statistics and to discuss mutual concerns. Thefts of items left in unlocked motor vehicles, cheque frauds and motor vehicle collisions were all up substantially over the 1984 figures, while other types of traffic offenses seem to have declined somewhat.

Fell reported that he has been promised two additions to the detachment's staff. Ken Dion of Kehewin who is presently training in Regina, will join the staff as a Special Constable in mid-May, and a uniformed summer student will be arriving for a three month stint at about the same time.

The Sergeant suggested that he could meet with members of Council's Police Committee on a regular basis to discuss matters of concern before they become big issues.

The final delegation of the evening was three representatives of the Elk Point and District Regional Recreation and Cultural Board, who were in attendance to discuss the 1986 Recreation Department budget. Recreation Director Linda Simpson said that because of grant funding cuts, the Department is looking at an $8000 deficit on their proposed budget. Les Meger reported that the County had been "pretty negative" about the budget, because they feel that too much funding is going to administration costs and too little to groups, "especially out of town groups".

Jim Forrest noted that when he joined the Board four years ago, it "just received the grants, received applications from community groups, and divided up the money", whereas now it is developing, implementing and running programs. Forrest added that restricting the CRC grant would put the board in a position of not having funds to run the programs planned for this summer.

Citizens honored at RCMP Ball

Elk Point RCMP Detachment presented their Third Annual Regimental Ball Saturday evening, with presentations to worthy local citizens taking the place of a guest speaker in the after-dinner program.

Following the introduction of the members of the Force, Auxiliary Constables, guards, groundskeepers, Justices of the Peace and out of town guests in attendance, Sergeant Jim Fell briefly outlined the Detachment's community involvement, and praised members of the community for the help they have given.

Constable Doug Huskins presented a handsome plaque to Pastor John McGregor and Mrs. McGregor, who have helped lighten the RCMP's work "by helping people in despair and by opening their home to people in need of help". McGregor, in turn, called the RCMP "an asset to the community in every way, and always a real joy to work with". In accepting the plaque, McGregor spoke of his relationship with God, and said that "the honor and glory really belong to Him".

A "colorful member of the community" received the next award from Sgt. Fell. Gordon McCuaig was honored for his contributions toward crime prevention in the oilpatch and his help in setting up the "Patch Watch" group.

The third plaque was presented to Leatha Ockerman, for both herself and husband Melvin, who spent nine years as jail matron and jail guard for the Detachment before their retirement late last year. Sgt. Fell made the presentation "to two extremely dedicated people for their help with the policing cause".

Following the presentations, the nearly 200 guests in attendance moved upstairs, with a Grand March of scarlet coated RCMP officers and their lovely escorts, led by Inspector Bill Donahue of St. Paul and Mrs. Donahue, Sgt. Jim Fell and Mrs. Fell, opening the evening's dance with pomp and splendor.

Michaud on the Liberal Campaign Trail

Michaud Meets Junior Entrepreneur

J.E.: So George, how will you help me in my new business venture?
Michaud: Small business and family farms need access to capital, qualified personnel and marketing techniques. Alberta Liberals will offer a Small Business Incubator Fund.

J.E.: O.K. Keep on - I'm listening.

Michaud: A Liberal Government is committed to an Alberta based investment industry. Alberta Liberal policy will encourage entrepreneurs rather than replace them.

J.E.: Good, but what about my brother who's unemployed right now?
Michaud: Labour intensive construction projects such as highways, municipal infrastructures and environmental renewal programs will be undertaken to create jobs now.

J.E.: O.K. George, I have another question for you - my father's savings have just gone down the drain. Is this what's in store for my brother and me?

Michaud: Public confidence in Alberta's financial institutions will be restored by an adequate inspection system to prevent unsound management practices in any of our financial institutions.

Michaud Meets Native Friend

Native Friend: Well George, I'd like to hear what you propose to do to help us retain our cultural identity.

Michaud: Education is a big factor in preserving any cultural identity. I recognize your need for the training of Native teachers, and the importance of Native input into program development. Alberta Liberals dedicate themselves to a system through which each student is challenged and educated to the maximum of his/her potential; of course, this includes Native students.

Native Friend: I'm glad to hear that! I would like to live within your system but I don't favor assimilation.

Michaud: I sympathize with you and I strongly support your point of view.

Save the children

April 20 to 26 has been designated as Save The Children Week in Elk Point.

This world-wide organization has helped the children of war-torn and underdeveloped nations for nearly seventy years, with a separate group being formed in Canada a full forty years ago.

The recent founding of an Elk Point chapter of CSCF has shown, once again, what a caring community ours is. We are willing to help not only our relatives and friends, but people we have never seen in lands that we may not even know where to find on the map.

This new group deserves our support, if only by depositing our change in the coin capsules now appearing in banks and businesses. Those pennies rattling in your pocket will do very little good for anyone, but when joined by the pennies from hundreds of other pockets, they can feed a starving child, or help to ensure that someone has a roof over their head.

Every little helps. Support the Save the Children Fund this week and help provide a brighter tomorrow for a child.

Nursing home - at last

The announcement of plans for a thirty bed nursing home for Elk Point will indeed be welcome news to the entire community.

As Elk Point has gone through its recent period of rapid growth, it has become increasingly evident that nursing home beds were needed to free up those used by long term patients for active care.

The Elk Point Hospital Board has worked long and hard to bring this need to the attention of the government, and MLA John Drobot has lobbied on Elk Point's behalf to bring about this announcement.

It will be some time before the nursing home is actually built, or even before the plans are drawn up. But, now that we have the assurance that the wheels are, indeed, in motion, it will be much easier to wait.

Congratulations to all concerned. It is your persistent efforts which have brought this about, and we are grateful for your hard work.

Elk Point minor hockey wind-up

By Shirley Osinchuk
Clondonald Correspondent

On Friday, April 18, the Elks Hall was filled with hockey and Ringette players, their parents, coaches and other friends. The evening began with a delicious potluck supper.

After supper, Lloyd Metz, Chairman for the evening introduced the Head Table guests.

Every player received a plaque engraved with his or her name, team and year. Each team came forward to receive these plaques, and the three medals for each team were presented.

As several coaches pointed out, it was very hard to choose three players out of any team, because they all must play together as a team, and each is most valuable in his or her own way.

The Tom Thumb Oilers' winners were: Most Sportsmanlike Player - Bradley Pankiw, Most Improved Player - Chris Melnyk, and Most Valuable Player - Loren Kozicki.

The Tom Thumb Lions honoured Dean Kozicki as Most Sportsmanlike, Ray Briggs as Most Improved, and Monte Kenyon as Most Valuable players.

On the Tom Thumb Tigers, the medals went to Darcy Pankiw for Most Valuable Player, Irwin Easthope for Most Sportsmanlike, and Danny Hanson for the Most Improved.

The Dome Atoms chose Tim Chalmers as Most Sportsmanlike, Jeff Lypka as Most Improved, and Tyson Stafford as Most Valuable Player.

Shawn Sheplaw was name Most Sportsmanlike Player by the Bantam Elks. Bryce Lorenson received the Most Improved Player medal, and the Most Valuable Player medal went to David Anderson.

The Windsor Midgets awarded the Most Valuable Player award to their goalie Kelly Godziuk, Most Improved Player to Tim Poulin, and Most Sportsmanlike Player to Darryl Pashulka.

Coach Jim Fell presented the plaques to the Ringette team. The medals went to Amber Fell - Most Sportsmanlike, Tanya Poitras - Most Improved, and Terryl Garriock - Most Valuable Player.

The last team to be honoured was the Co-op PeeWees, who this year had a very successful season, winning second in the Zone 2 PeeWee B League, and the silver medals in the Provincial C Tournament in Provost. Darcy McLaughlin was awarded the Most Sportsmanlike Player medal, Norbert Bernard, the Most Improved, and Lindsay Jenner, the Most Valuable Player.

The team presented a trophy to George Anderson, their coach, in appreciation for coaching the same group of boys for nine years. All the names of this year's team were engraved on it. An engraved picture frame from Provost, commemorating their win there was also presented to George by the team.

The ladies who organized the concession workers, Shirley Harms, Joyce Spence, Darlene Kozicki, and Betty Poitras were presented with gifts. Leona Bretzer was also thanked for her work there.

Lloyd introduced the guest speaker, John Mandarich, #75, defensive tackle with the Edmonton Eskimos. John spoke about dedication to achieving success in all areas of life. He said that it takes sacrifice, and conditioning of the mind. "Picture yourself doing better. Picture it over and over, and it will happen."

John played football in High School in Toronto, and told about the struggle to win a scholarship to Kent University in the U.S., and the hard work to finally be the one out of forty-one players in his position to sign a professional contract.

Besides concentration on personal goals, teamwork is the key to success. Again telling of personal experience, this time on the Eskimos, John told how that team went from a losing streak to a seven game streak without one touchdown scored on their defense, because they decided to play for the team, not for the fans or press.

He told our young athletes that if they want to play pro sports they must make it their goal and work for it daily.

John said after the sports career is ended, there is a lifetime to live. An important thing to remember is "your career is always one play away from ending" so prepare yourself with a good education.

He concluded that one should set goals, wish for them to come true, work hard and believe in oneself.

The audience gave Mandarich a standing ovation. John Yakemchuk presented a book to him, "Reflections - A History of Elk Point and District", and an Elk Point PeeWees cap which he promised to wear on the first "cap day" before the Eskimos' first game.

John Yakemchuk thanked parents, coaches, and fans for helping to make a successful Minor Hockey season, with special thanks also to Stella Lorenson and Darlene Arndt, of the Minor Hockey Association executive. John closed by suggesting we sometimes put too much pressure on kids, and should instead "let kids be kids".

The coaches of the other teams were also given PeeWee caps.

The evening carried on upstairs with a dance.

CO-OP PEE WEES — Lindsay Jenner, Most Valuable Player, Norman Bernard, Most Improved Player, Darcy McLaughlin, Most Sportsmanlike Player, George Anderson, Coach.

Volunteers honored for good works

By Irene Magnusson
The once-was gym of the old Junior High in Elk Point, now used for community service activities, was jam-packed on Tuesday, April 15th, evening, as volunteers came to be honored and to see others honored for the multi acts of volunteer work committed by dedicated persons over the past year.

Marie Buck from Family and Community Support Services (FCSS) and Linda Simpson from the Elk Point and District Regional Recreation and Cultural Board MC'd a lively program of presentations and entertainment. The program opened with O Canada, led by Ron Barwick on sax.

Greetings were offered by Alvina Schuhmacher, Chairperson of the FCSS, and a warm welcome extended. Debbie Lawrence, Acting Chairperson of Elk Point & District RRCB said Volunteers are greatly appreciated. People volunteer for many reasons: they want to help others, it can give a purpose for life, and get one 'out of the house', but mainly the hope is that "someone somewhere has had life made a bit easier", Lawrence stated.

Entertainment started off with a hilarious spoof on the different kinds of volunteers, parts played by Faye Smith, Billie Lyn Milholland and Shawn Sheplaw, these last two doing several characters each. Sherry Pelech was author and director of the comedy. Junior members of the Ukrainian Dance Club showed they were well under way on a dancing career, performing intricate steps and wearing the authentic costumes and hair-dress of the 'old country'.

Guest dancers from St. Paul, three lovely girls, did a crisp clickety-clack tap dance routine; followed by the graceful ballet of two ballerinas. A group of eight girls energetically and gracefully displayed their jazz dancing prowess. These last two groups are young ladies from Elk Point, and all are called the Mannawanis Dancers, under the tutelage of Lee Porta of Edmonton.

Ms Porta drives to Elk Point once a week throughout the school year to teach the dance classes. This is her second year, "without failing to come", she said, but has been late for the classes a couple of times due to stormy conditions. The group will be offering "The Wizard of Oz" at the year-end, and some will be travelling the Whitecourt Evergreen Dance Festival, April 26th, also the Alberta Dance Festival in Edmonton around the end of May. It is most encouraging, I found, to see these young people able to perform before an audience - so well - and to have such an interesting spare-time activity.

Certainly those volunteers who had assembled for the program enjoyed the presentation.

Presentations were made to representative members of every group, of an appreciation certificate and a volunteer pin for each person. These are a blue Alberta shape with "Volunteer" in gold entwined across, a very attractive pin, and one to be treasured.

Many Volunteer spokespersons expressed thanks and appreciation for help received in their chosen objective, proud of their efforts and achievements. As well they should be.

For a town of some 1200 persons, and surrounding area, the list of Volunteer organizations is indeed long. Following the program, a delicious lunch was offered to all, as well as three door prizes awarded. These were accepted by Alex Kriss, Susan Yakemchuk and Norma Lorenson. Elk Point and District Volunteers worked for the good of their fellow man in these groups, some in many groups: Elk Point Economic Development Board, Elk Point Development Board, Elk Point Disaster Service Committee, Elk Point Elementary School, Elk Point Golf & Country Club, Girl Guides of Canada, Elk Point & District Gun Club, Elk Point & District Ukrainian Dance Club, Elk Point F. G. Miller Jr/Sr High School, Elk Point Boxing Club, Mannawanis Dance Club, Order of Royal Purple, Town of Elk Point, King George Community Club, Royal Canadian Army Cadets Corps, Lindbergh Recreation Association, T.O.P.S., County of St. Paul, Elk Point & District Chamber of Commerce, Windsor Club, Family & Community Support Services, Elk Point & District Agricultural Society Fair Board, Heinsburg Curling Club, Light Horse Association, Elk Point & District Ringette and Minor Hockey, Further Education, Elk Point Skating Club, Pioneer Circle, Lakeland Tourist Association, Elk Point Municipal Library, Frog Lake Community Club, Boy Scouts of Canada, Elk Point 4-H Multi Club, Canadian Red Cross Society, Heinsburg Community Club, St. Vladimir's Ukrainian Orthodox Church, Elk Point Baptist Church, Elk Point Farmers Market, Eastern Star, Spring Park Community Society, Heart Fund, Oilmen's, Oilettes, R.C.M.P., Student Union, St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion, St. George's Masonic Lodge, Ferguson Flats Association, Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department, Armistice Community Club, Ukrainian Catholic Church of Holy Eucharist, Lakeland College, Elk Point & District Agricultural Society, Elk Point 4-H Light Horse Club, Buckingham House & Fort George Manor Board, Airport Commission, Elk Point & District Regional Recreation & Cultural Board, Elk Point & District Historical Society, Elk Point & District Curling Club, Elk Point 4-H Beef Club, Elk Point & District Lioness, Elk Point & District Lions, Elk Point United Church, Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary, Elk Point Elks Community Services Society, Heinsburg Community Society, Lakeland Ball Park Association, Lakeland Theater Company.

ALL KINDS OF VOLUNTEERS — Were portrayed by (r-l?) Shawn Sheplaw, Faye Smith and Billie Lyn Milholland in a hilarious skit written and directed by Sherry Pelech (left).

The snow is almost gone, again, and the combines are working where the fields are dry enough. The robin left with the last snow and hasn't been heard around here since.

Matt Harasiuk, Rosie McMullen and Kay Dougan have won the Agricultural Society Lottery recently.

Spring sports are being organized. Stan Stafford, former pro soccer player, is organizing boys 11 and under into a soccer team. Ball teams for boys and girls are being organized in Clandonald and Rusylvia. Practices should be started by the beginning of May.

In school, badminton is the sport right now. In the Junior High Finals at J.R. Robson, on Saturday, April 19, the girls' doubles team of Heather Attfield and Janice DeFord placed second, and the boys' doubles team of Rick Rybchinsky and Roger Osinchuk placed first.

Our Grade nine students entered the Pascal Math Contest for Grade 9.

Roger Osinchuk won the medal, and Jennifer Kurash, Elaine Bardoel and Cheryl Nowosad won the certificates.

Teen Fellowship has plans for May 2, 16 and 30. On May 2 they will be going bowling. Call Pastor Steve Elich at 853-4220 for information or rides. Keep the other two dates open and watch for details of activities.

Daylight Saving Time begins at 2 a.m. on Sunday, April 27, so don't forget to turn the clocks ahead one hour on Saturday night. We "spring-ahead, and fall-behind".

Sunday evening at 7 p.m. is the regular time for Family Night at the Bible Fellowship Church. All are invited to an informal worship service and lunch and visiting.

May 3 is the day the 4-H clubs all across the province clean up the highways. Drive extra carefully, and watch for these good young citizens and their parents out cleaning up our area.

Out our way

By Mildred Dunham

Ferguson Flats Correspondent

The past few days have been mingled with excitement and tears.

Out our way we were extremely saddened by the passing of Jan Frisby (24) of Lindbergh and Frank Brown (21) of Ferguson Flats. They were so young and no words can express the loss we all feel. Can we learn from this experience to feel a little more kindly towards our neighbors and offer a little more of ourselves to others?

But life goes on, and although touched by sadness, we celebrated Emory Bartholemew's birthday party at his niece Gaby Bayduza's home on April 12th. Eighty years young, Emory joked along with friends half his age, and enjoyed his cake. He received a "money tree" for his gift.

On the same night there was a combined stag and shower party held in honor of Susan Brown and husband to be, Terry Porcina of Elk Point, at the home of Susan's parents, Jim and Betty Brown. Their marriage will take place this weekend.

On Thursday, there was a farm sale for Delbert Jones near Heinsburg, and on April 19th there was a farm sale for Vina Hostvedt which was also a reunion of many friends and relatives.

Designer from Elk Point author of Alberta Pavilion at Expo'86

What's a nice boy from Elk Point doing at Expo '86? Gary Andrishak, the eldest son of Fred Andrishak is "the guy who built the Alberta Pavilion at the World Exposition". He is also the guy responsible for prize-winning housing designs in Calgary and Banff, and the guy supervising the design of Calgary's northwest transit line. A busy lad indeed!

Andrishak's work draws adjectives like "imaginative", "unique" and "creative" from the architectural press. It also falls into the "controversial" school of design for Gary Andrishak is not a man with a conventional approach to buildings.

The pavilion with its bright colours and eclectic shapes has been described by Canadian Architect as "capturing the colourful, curious and quirky spirit of exposition architecture for the 1980's." It has been described by others as a wacky mixture, looking like a cross between a barnyard and an oil refinery, with a bit of Ukrainian Orthodox church thrown in it.

The $10 million Alberta showcase at Expo '86 has been the subject of hot and cool reactions. "Visitors to Expo '86 cannot miss Alberta's pavilion," says Bob Dowling, provincial Commissioner to the World Exposition in Vancouver. "Our building is so different and so controversial that it will really attract attention among fair goers, and give Alberta a high profile in this visually competitive environment."

Andrishak takes particular pride in the controversy, and in his ability to have sold the unusual design to the Alberta government. With his partner, Jeremy Sturgess, Andrishak won the pavilion project out of a field of 68 proposals despite his firm's relative inexperience in the specialized field. "You have to dare to be different," he says of the building, "but you also have to hustle to persuade a prospective client that the architectural gamble is worth taking."

As the son of a furniture and appliance store owner, "I was selling washers and driers when I was ten," remembers Gary; a skill which served him well when he and Sturgess first presented their idea about the Expo design in 1983.

Andrishak graduated from Elk Point High School with the sense that he "wanted to do something big". His design training at the University of Manitoba and later in Europe at the London Central School of Art and the Royal Danish Academy of Architecture, where he graduated in 1973, equipped him with a broad knowledge of design styles.

But his overseas experience did not take the prairie out of Andrishak's vision of the world: The Alberta Pavilion is a mixture of shapes - towers, glaciers, oil derricks and windmills; but one of the exterior facades has, in Gary's words, "three grain elevators with a bridge to the south; in my mind a profile of Elk Point with the North Saskatchewan River nearby". The colours of the building - bright green, blue, yellow and red - are influenced by his boyhood memories of the northern Alberta landscape.

Among the interior exhibits, which take the visitor on a rapid, highly entertaining tour of Alberta heritage and industry, is a section devoted to the transportation of grain. The stylized elevator is decorated with large paintings by Peter Shostak, a noted artist from Bonnyville. One of the three 10 ft. x 20 ft. murals shows a rural village. While it is a composite of various Alberta towns, Shostak gave a salute to Andrishak by putting Elk Point on the elevator in the painting. "The town's name will be seen front and centre by five million visitors expected to come through the Alberta Pavilion," says the designer with pride.

The name of Elk Point will also be inscribed along with 1,000 community names on the interior walls of the central rotunda of the pavilion.

Alberta at Expo '86 is going to be among the stand out pavilions ... in height as the pavilion tower, rising to a height of ten storeys makes the structure the tallest at Expo, and it will definitely be a stand out in design. The pavilion, according to Gary Andrishak, is a portrait of "the wit, sophistication and charm of Alberta, all those things which keep us living in this province." Elk Point is evidently one of those things that count for the designer.

Andrishak is hoping that friends and family from his home town will come to Expo during the 5½ month season - May 2nd to October 13th - will be pleased with the way he remembered his hometown.

P.S. Another former Elk Point resident is also very much a part of the Alberta delegation at Expo. The wife of the Commissioner, Bob Dowling, will be remembered as Olga Yewchin, niece of the late Peter Yewchin.

Elk Point Horse Club

The last meeting of the Elk Point Horse Club on April 14th was well attended. We had a general meeting followed by a Barrel Racing Film. Wayne Wruth and Kelvin Sadowinski donated a saddle rack which we raffled off. It was won by Stella Stone.

Plans were completed for our May 4th Trail Ride. It will be a one day ride from Ken Neilson's farm down to Kehewin Lake and back to Ken's. Posters should be out soon, providing more details for the ride.

The Club is getting good response so far and we hope that our first event of the season brings out all the members and many newcomers.

Lakeland Tourist Association meet in Elk Point

By Irene Magnusson

Elk Point was honored to host the April meeting of the Lakeland Tourist Association on Saturday, April 19. Loyal member Ron Barwick made the arrangements, with the meeting taking place in the meeting room of the Elk's Hall. Coffee was supplied by the Ladies of the Royal Purple.

The group came to order under chairman Glen Hays, and a welcome and greetings were brought by Elk Point Chamber of Commerce secretary, Vicki Brooker.

Minutes of the March meeting in Vegreville were dealt with. M. Pattison, treasurer, offered the March financial statement. Manager Marjorie Robinson spoke on the Budget prepared for the coming year. A Financial Committee has been appointed, of three persons, charged with finding more funds and cutting corners to make less waste, and hopefully, leaving more money in the coffers at year end.

Several fund-raising projects were discussed, all designed to promote tourism and knowledge of our area to visitors and natives alike. Maps, area programs, stickers and pins are to be used, to 'sell' the Lakeland.

Plans were finalized for the Lac La Biche June 21st meeting and Fish Fry, to which all mayors, reeves, etc., will be invited, as well as government officials as speakers. It is expected this will be an afternoon and evening affair, as the beautiful lake and park settings are too good to leave too quickly.

The May meeting will be in Myram, in the Elk's Hall, on the 10th.

The Lakeland Tourist Guide is in the process of being printed by the St. Paul Journal, and should be ready soon, Chairman Hays reported. It will be glossier, better, more complete - watch for it. Several reports were heard: The TIALTA conference is May 5th, possibly attended by Ron Barwick; Spruce Grove will celebrate its becoming a city; "Take an Alberta Break" slogans will be available on buttons, pins, stickers (possibly all free) and we should use these wherever possible.

The Elk Point Chamber of Commerce graciously supplied a smorg luncheon to the 27 guests to our town. As usual the Empress served us well.

Heritage Day has been set in August; some would like to have it in June. Fred Bamber stated that fees at Elk Island Park have been adjusted, to a more reasonable state, as of this year. Local Museums could receive free advertising on TV, if they are agreeable. They will be contacted.

A large 30-page implementary plan for development of the Pinehurst Lake Area was available. This is in a planning stage only, subject to change, but there is hope of developing a larger camping area, at the same time leaving part of the surrounding territory as wild as possible, with no access roads, leaving the wildlife some sanctuary. Since this is only tentative, not much can be said, except it looks promising.

A tour of the Oil Patch had been planned, but was cancelled due to soft roads, and an alternative tour of the Salt Plant was not possible, due to it being Saturday. Guess we will be known as the 'invisible' industry area! Small salt bags of take-home items were supplied to the guests.

Emory Bartholomew — 80 years young

By Mildred Dunham
If you drive out about three miles east of Lindbergh, you will probably see a man and his dogs out checking quite a large herd of cattle. Nothing unusual about that — you might say — except that Emory just celebrated his 80th birthday.
Born on April 16th, 1906, at 5 a.m. (as his mother told him) in Minnesota, U.S.A., Emory is still young in many ways. His memory is as keen as ever, and he tells me he actually remembers a few things about coming to Canada with his parents in 1909. They came with two boxcars of machinery sent out from Minnesota to Vegreville. That year, in March, there was a big snowstorm which piled enormous drifts against the buildings. His mother dropped him out the window so he could help them get the door open.
Emory came to the Lindbergh area in 1930, homesteading a quarter of land which he still calls home. Although he later formed a partnership with the Jurak brothers to build quite a large ranch, he still has a few "pet" cattle — descendants of two black Jersey bulls he started out with. Emory tells me money was hard to come by, but he bought a bred cow for $8. He finally sold his bulls for $38 each, and bought a good team of horses for $90.

Although Emory never married, there always seems to be someone around his place, from neighbors to numerous nieces and nephews. He hasn't changed much in the years I've known him, joking about his age and following that "early to rise, early to bed" motto. I remember him working about his place about 25 years ago as I rode past on my horse. (He says I'm the only girl that did that.) Now, as I drive by in my truck, I still see him out there. We hope that his health will last for many more years to enjoy his country living and that we, his friends, can enjoy with him many happy returns of his birthday. Hang in there, Emory!

Child ID comes to parent nursery

Elk Point Lions Club will be conducting another in their series of Child Identification sessions next week, this time at the Elk Point Parent Nursery. The session is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Wednesday, April 30 at the Community Services Centre.

Final summary for Elk Point Co-op PeeWee hockey

After an excellent season of hockey finishing off second in our "B" League and second in "C" Provincials, here are the stats for all recorded games, 42 in all.

Each team has 1 or 2 M.V.P.'s but every one of our players are M.V.P.'s as they all I'm sure did their best for the season which put us in second spot all around.

Thanks guys you deserve it.

In this tournament for every game there was a M.V.P. player selected which were: James Onusko, Lindsay Jenner, Curtis Porcina, Robin Yakemchuk, Norbert Bernard.
In my opinion they were all M.V.P.'s as they all brought home a silver medal which is a first in Elk Point.
A special thanks to those who generously helped us out in our memorable trip to Provost & Nangly: Murphy Oil, Lindberg Plant, Elk Point Elks Lodge #460, Canadian Salt Company, Elk Point Lions Club,

Dewberry News Roundup

By Cliff Cunningham
Dewberry Correspondent

The Greenlawn Missionary Ladies held a bake sale at the Dewberry Seniors Drop-In Centre, April 8th, with a good turnout. The foot nurse and blood pressure nurse were also at the centre the same afternoon.

Clandonald has lost two old timers lately. Lynn McCormack's funeral was on April 10th and Archie MacDonald's funeral was on April 11th. Sorry we were not able to go to either one. We are all in sympathy with their relatives and friends.

The Minor Hockey potluck supper was held at the Dewberry Hall, April 11th, with a large crowd turning out. I never took notes as I should have done and now I can't remember everything. Maybe someone can hand me in a write-up. There sure was all kinds of food, topped off with ice cream for dessert.

We have lots of moisture now as we had a blizzard on April 10th with about ten inches of snow and it has been cool ever since. At five p.m., April 12 it was 8 degrees below F. and only up to 20 and 22 above the last two days. Marge and I were suppose to go to Edmonton for a check up the day of the blizzard but felt it was better to stay home in that kind of weather.

I have more history news of Dewberry and surrounding districts handed in by John Anderson. The Dewberry Museum contains much early history. More interesting is a minute book on recordings and doings of the United Farmers of Alberta Local 98, starting on April 17th, 1909 meeting in the Hazeldine School. Philip Porter placed this book in the Dewberry Museum. They want me to put in the news column the highlights of the years which go from 1909 up to 1925. Dewberry Local 98 - R.A. Wilson - President, Tom Porter - Vice-president, F.H. Skinner - Sec. Treasurer along with Directors W. Herbert, W.H. Anderson, Charlie Maltais and A. Tonkin. May 1st 1909 meeting - a cream route being organized. June 5th, 1909 - crop prospects good except fall wheat. Aug. 8th, 1909 - R.F. Blair to be delegate at Edmonton. $10.00 was raised for his expenses. Jan. 8th, 1910 - W. H. Anderson, Sec. Treasurer on railway delegation. Farmers here are urging a new C.P. rail line through Lloydminster-Dewberry and on to Edmonton. The train fare from Islay to Edmonton $5.25 return.

Feb. 5th, 1910 auditors report total revenue $43.50. Railway report read and adopted. Albert Tonkin wished to say that he had an objection regarding the way in which admission was gained to the school room meeting held in Dewberry North School, by crawling through the window as no one had a key and the ladies in those days did not wear slacks or overalls. Motion made that a more dignified mode of entry in the future was approved by all present at the meeting. Four copies of the Grain Grower's Guide were ordered and a social program be part of the next meeting.

Feb. 18th, 1910 meeting in Dewberry North School - large attendance with many ladies present. Social program of songs, recitations, readings and violin music. Discussed pork packing proposition. A lunch was served after the meeting and program, and how the bachelors enjoyed that part of the evening.

This is only part of the write-up given to me about the early history of Dewberry and districts. I will write a few lines each week along with my other news.

The Dewberry Mustangs hockey team held their Wind-up party, supper and dance in the hall April 12th with over one hundred and fifty turning out for an enjoyable evening. Headley Dennill was M.C. along with Adolph Butz (manager) and others helping out. Jim MacLean was their coach.

Trophies were awarded for: Most points - Dennis McCormack (runner-up - Doug Lousin); Most goals - Doug Lousin (runners-up were Dennis McCormack and Randy Huxley); Kim Nelson Memorial Trophy for Most Valuable Player - Bruce Goldsmith; Jack Rogstad Trophy for Most Gentlemanly Player - Mike Nelson; Rookie of the Year (Jim Hines trophy) - Dennis McCormack; Mike Nelson - Art Mead Memorial trophy for Best Defenceman - Bruce Goldsmith. Dennill's Garage Trophy for Most Valuable Player in the playoffs - Brent Romanchuk.

We all wish the Dewberry Mustangs hockey team, their coach, manager, trainer and stick boy the very best of luck and hope you win the cup again in 1987.

The next Dewberry School Reunion Meeting is Tuesday, May 13th at 8:00 p.m. Where are all the local people? Have you forgotten to register?

Brief meeting for Chamber

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce made short work of their agenda last Wednesday, with Tourism related activities high on the list of items for discussion.

Ron Barwick reported that plans were complete for Saturday's Lakeland Tourist Association meeting, although the proposed bus tour of the oilfield had been cancelled because of spring softened roads.

Barwick also presented information on the Alberta Conference on Tourism, which takes place next month in Jasper. The Chamber later voted to send Barwick as their representative, and to pay his registration and accommodation costs.

An offer from Ken Aarbo to locate the Tourist Booth on his service station property at the junction of Highway 41 and Secondary Highway 646 brought about considerable discussion. A special meeting will be held by the Tourism Committee and Chamber executive to discuss the matter further.

Susan Yakemchuk of the Membership Committee said that over half the list had been covered. She questioned a previous newspaper report, which inadvertently put the price of an individual membership at $15 rather than $5 which is the correct price.

Mayor Ed Buck and Councillor Alvin Schuhmacher reported on Town doings, which included the finalization of the Town's 1985 Financial Statement, final inspection of the Seniors lodge and the receipt of a $344,000 grant for further water upgrading.

Buck asked that the Chamber have their 1986 budget ready for submission by the April 28 Council meeting.
